TACOMA, Wash. (Feb. xx, 2015) – America's Car Museum (ACM), the largest automotive museum in North America, announced the addition of Dean Carrell to its executive team as VP for Institutional Advancement. Carrell's responsibilities are to broaden awareness of ACM and increase financial support among donors.

Carrell, who successfully raised money and coordinated several on-campus building renovations during his 15-year tenure at Seattle Pacific University, brings more than two decades of experience as a fundraising professional to ACM.

“Dean is a high-quality individual whose character, demeanor and attitude are a good fit for the institution,” said David Madeira, president & CEO of the Tacoma-based museum, “We believe he has the skill and experience to make an immediate impact on the funding initiatives for ACM, which will allow us to strengthen our community ties and share historic vehicles with countless individuals.”

Carrell will head several departments at the Museum including development, marketing and communications as well as sales and events.
