Introducing the ACM Photo Car: Take Your Memories Home With You

Visitors regularly ask if they can sit in cars at ACM. In December, we opened the new Family Zone interactive space, which features a 1920s-era Dodge visitors of all ages are invited to climb into and "take the wheel" as they learn about the inner-workings of cars.

Now, ACM is excited to announce our newest complimentary interactive attraction, the Photo Car! Guests are invited to pose in a 1923 Buick Series 23-Four, Model 35-5 Passenger Touring and take their goofiest photos. Visitors receive one complimentary photo to take home, and they may email additional photos to themselves or share their unique ACM memories on social media.

VeeDub Exhibit Extended Due to Popular Demand

The "People's Car" is truly a popular car, and ACM is excited to announce that we will be extending the Volkswagen exhibit through Memorial Day, May 26.

VeeDub - Bohemian Beauties has been captivating visitors of all ages with the bright colors and fun shapes of these early air-cooled beauties. Part of the appeal to the exhibit are the personal stories behind these cars.

contribute to the program.

Most of the air-cooled VeeDubs on display come from private owners who graciously loaned their vehicles to the exhibit. One such owner is 12-year-old Joey Barrett, who with his father put their 1963 Herbie Love Bug recreation in the exhibit. The Barretts first acquired Herbie in 2008 and began renovating the vehicle. Joey was a huge fan of the Disney film "The Love Bug", and was pretty excited to have his own Herbie.

Other vehicles in the exhibit are labors of love, including a 1965 Formcar MKIII Vee 65, on loan from Bill Simer and Renee Rolando. This car came in an unassembled Formcar kit, which the current owner purchased. The vehicle was assembled in 2000 and has been raced in SOVREN vintage race events. True to the unofficial Formula Vee motto, "you can spend more money racing something more sophisticated, but you can't have more fun!"

You can learn more about the cars on display by visiting ACM's interactive kiosk in the VeeDub - Bohemian Beauties exhibit.

Now there's even more time to catch VeeDub - Bohemian Beauties at ACM. See photos of the exhibit on Facebook, and come visit us to learn more about these unique cars.

ACM is host to the Vintage Motorcycle Festival, better known as The Meet, held annually in August. Burt Reynolds, Chairman of the festival, provides us with highlights from the 2013 event and looks ahead to the future.

Vintage Motorcycle Festival

A Report from 2013

By Burt Reynolds

Six months before the Museum was scheduled to open on June 2, 2012, CEO David Madeira gathered a few of us to hear his vision. As David explained it, many car guys are also motorcycle riders, but not all motorcycle riders, collectors or restorers are car people. We needed to bring all motor sports enthusiasts into the new Museum to share the collection and the exhibits. Continue reading this article.

Please mark your calendars now and join us August 22-24, 2014 for our 3rd Annual Vintage Motorcycle Festival. For more information and details visit vintagemotorcyclefestival.com.
