FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Sensational Station Wagons Roll In to America's Car Museum

TACOMA, WA. (Mar. 19, 2015) – Who can forget the Griswold's infamous green and wood-paneled Wagon Queen Family Truckster in "National Lampoon's Vacation?" Or the tricked-out Ectomobile in the "Ghostbusters" movie? Baby boomers across the country wanted to call shotgun and ride with The Brady Bunch in their Plymouth Satellite.

Station wagons—an American automobile icon and a symbol of the family road trip. There are few vehicles that conjure up the delight of the family vacation like as the great American station wagon. A collection of the sleekest, shiniest, top-of-the-line wagons will make their debut at America's Car Museum (ACM) on Mar. 27.

"Those too young to have experienced the wagon family road trip will get a captivating look at what life was like in the 50s and 60s," said David Madeira, president and CEO of ACM. "And those with memories riding in these gems will experience a trip down memory lane."

The vintage station wagon display will be featured as part of the Museum's Route 66 gallery which opened to great acclaim last May.

Route 66 is a road so quintessentially American that it has become a permanent part of our cultural memory: Route 66, the Mother Road, the Main Street of America. People around the world recognize Route 66 as a symbol of space, freedom, abundance and the thrill of the unexpected: everything great about the U.S.A.

Whether reliving a memorable road trip or planning to embark on a new adventure, there is no better way to experience the great American road trip than in a vintage wagon on the Mother Road.
