ACM Honors Dr. Fred Simeone with the 2013 Nicola Bulgari Award

The 2013 Nicola Bulgari Award - which honors individuals who have made outstanding contributions to preserve America's automotive heritage - was presented to Dr. Fred Simeone at ACM's first-anniversary gala. The award is named for jewelry magnate and classic car collector Nicola Bulgari.

Dr. Simeone, the founder of the Simeone Automotive Museum in Philadelphia, Pa., inherited his passion for cars from his father and has been amassing an impressive collection of classic cars for more than 50 years. Dr. Simeone opened the Simeone Automotive Museum in 2008, focusing on finding unrestored race cars that are as close to their original condition as possible.

NASCAR exhibit debut

The "Legends of Motorsports: The NASCAR Story" exhibit was unveiled June 2 at ACM. Showcasing the drivers, cars, fans and speedways from the iconic racing series, the display stretches from NASCAR's beginnings on the beaches of Florida in 1948 to the superspeedway contests of today.

Back to the Future will kick off ACM's Summer Drive-In Movie Series

ACM will be launching its summer drive-in movie series on June 15 with the 1985 classic Back to the Future.

Movie-goers can watch the film - free of charge - from their parked cars or out on the Haub Family Field with blankets and chairs. Two DeLoreans, similar to the vehicle used in the movie, will be on display, offering guests a chance to see the time-traveling vehicle in person.

In fact, according to www.btff3deloreon.com, the time travel machine in Back to the Future was originally going to be a "modified" refrigerator. However, writer and director Robert Zemeckis said he was worried that kids would start locking themselves in refrigerators and decided to change direction.

The solution was to use a vehicle with gull wing doors; specifically a DeLorean, since a Mercedes Benz 300SL was deemed to be too expensive.

Upcoming ACM drive-in films include The Flintstones on July 13 and Love Bug on August 17. Seating is on a first-come, first-served basis. Zip-line rides and food will be available for purchase and the museum will stay open until 9 p.m. when the movies start. Guests can reserve their spot on the field as early as 4:30 p.m. For more details click here.

ACM to celebrate Father's Day with a perfect weekend for dads

ACM will honor dads with a special Father's Day weekend of deals and activities on June 15 and 16, including driving simulator rides, a drive-in movie and a special look at the engines of cars inside the museum.
