ACM and Northwest Harvest first partnered together in November 2012 to help make Thanksgiving a bit more comfortable for local communities. The 2012 Drive Down Hunger food drive generated over 1,000 item donations, and we hope to increase that number in 2013!

Northwest Harvest has been feeding rural communities for over 45 years, and are the only non-profit food bank operating statewide in Washington. Learn more about Drive Down Hunger here. the North Hall of the 2013 Seattle International Auto Show was adorned with an incredible array of vehicles from 1913 - 1989, representing an overview of what can be found at America's Car Museum, including racing, Americana, vintage, Custom and true Elegance vehicles - 20 in total. ACM's exhibit was by far the largest of the show.

1963 Morris Cooper "S" MK I

Many of the cars came from the Museum's collection, but we owe a special thanks to several private owners who loaned vehicles. Their generosity contributed to an impressive amount of exhibitory diversity, which visitors noticed and enjoyed throughout the show.

In addition to the impressive collection of cars, visitors also had an opportunity to shop at the ACM Store and talk with ACM volunteers about the Museum's history, vision, current exhibits, upcoming events, membership perks, and opportunities to host events at the Museum. This year, ACM also sold special discounted admission packages to show-goers only. Hundreds of tickets were sold, and we look forward to welcoming those visitors through our doors over the next few months!

The image featured in this article showcases one of the display cars: A 1963 Morris Cooper "S" MK I, which is owned by ACM Collections Team volunteer Dick Johnson. 1963 was the first year for the Cooper "S" series, and only 4,031 were produced with the 1071cc racing engine. Cooper S MK I's won the Monte Carlo Rally outright in 1964, 1965, 1966 and 1967. The Cooper's first loss came in 1968 when Porsche's 911T was introduced that year. Dick purchased this particular vehicle from a private collector who had the car on display in ACM's British Invasion exhibit. Always a "small car guy", Dick says "it is a great reminder of things past, and a really fun way to drive into the future".
